W. M. Davidson
Wins By Big Majority
Of 1725

Would Make a good Premier

"The Review" heartily congratulates W.M. Davidson the Independent Candidate, on his splendid Victory at the Polls on Monday when he won by the magnificent majority of 1725 in the By-Election in Calgary for the Alberta Legislature.

The bulk of the Labor Party voted for him and we feel sure "He is the Right Man in the Right Place"

We also hope that his "Good Fortune" will follow him, in his earnest efforts at helping to frame "Good Laws" in the Legislature, which he deserves

And with thousands of others of his supporters "The Review" joins in singing:-

"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow
And So Say All Of Us"

If Labor will keep "Shoulder to Shoulder" he is our future Premier—He is 100 per cent O.K.

French Seize German Forests
A Penalty For Timber Default

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Riga correspondent of the Times says he learns from reliable sources that the Russian Soviet government has decided to mobilize the five year conscripts, with a view to assisting Germany, should Germany decide to resist French action.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The French, Belgian and Italian governments Wednesday gave the order immediately to commence working the state forests on the left bank of the Rhine as penalty for Germany's default in the delivery of timber, as established by the decision of the reparations commission on December 26.

PARIS—Jan. 18.—The French government has begun its policy of requisitioning in the Ruhr, as it was announced last evening. Five thousand eight hundred tons of coke and six hundred tons of coal which the Germans had loaded in cars were taken and re-routed for distribution among the allies.

BROADENING OUT POLICY FAVORED BY LEADER OF PROGRESSIVES

Robert Forke, Leader of Progressives
Flattens out H. W. Wood's Theory
Of Farmers Only

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 12.—The proposal that the Progressive party "broaden out" to include men and women of every calling and profession who pursue the same political ideas, was endorsed last night by Robert Forke, Progressive leader in an address to the United Farmers of Manitoba. "We cannot," said Mr. Forke, "afford to ignore those who sympathize with us and are willing to help"

Mr. Forke declared also his approval of some democratic co-ordinating agency in connection with the movement. "I have every sympathy," said Mr. Forke, "with those who hesitate to launch out and cast their net into the deep." The Progressive movement was the outcome of a desire for right economic conditions and justice to all classes of people—a square deal—but it was more than this. It resulted from a desire on the part of many to rid themselves of old party prejudices, to seek something better in public life where the abuses and sordidness of partisanship would be left behind; the evil of the patronage system forgotten; campaign expenses no more to be paid by those who had privileges to beg, and political affairs no longer left under the control of the few.

More Than Political Party

"The Progressive policy is even more than a political movement—it is the result of an ideal for better government and purer laws. This may be said without assuming a 'holier than thou' attitude. Now, when there is mention made of organization and moving on into the wider field of a national campaign, seeking the support of all those who support the policies we advocate, there is the fear of old time abuses creeping into the organization. Courage is needed for the adventure of life and courage is needed if Progressive policies are to be made known to and accepted by the people of Canada. If we know of something good we must carry the good news to Macedonia. I have a good deal of sympathy with the views expressed by Mr. Crenar last night for the formation of Progressive Farmers' locals functioning as political bodies. This may come some day. For the present the U.F.M. locals will carry on and be in control of the movement ready to co-operate with any Progressive organization having the same Political end in view, ready to give representation at a nominating convention—with adequate safeguards—to those in sympathy with their ideals.

Strength From Cities

"I have no doubt that the main strength of the Progressive movement will be in the rural sections of the country but if ever we are to reap the full reward we cannot afford to ignore those who sympathize and are willing to help"

"Mr. Crenar last night in his address, spoke of the effect of a small party in parliament holding the balance of power and by strategic movements, winning what they want, as not being satisfactory. This in the long run, will not be in the interest of the people of Canada.

Have to Convince the Public

"If we would accomplish the task that is before us We will in the long run have to convince the Majority of the People that Our Policies and Principles are Sound, and get Sufficient Support to carry them into Effect"

Robert Forke's Advice to U.F.M.

"Now a word as to organization; in every field of endeavor the story is we must organize. It is just as necessary in our political movement. I don't think anyone has a desire to create a party functioning in such a way that the people in the constituencies would not have complete control of the situation. Only if we are to have an influence commensurate with our strength in the country there must be some method of co-ordinating our energies. There need be no attempt at autocracy. Make the whole structure as democratic as you please only have some method of bringing the different sections of the country holding the same political ideals into contact one with another for the benefit of all. Let each constituency retain full control of its nominating convention, finance its own candidate, and thereby have the key to the whole situation making it impossible for any to get control of the Progressive activities. All this can be brought about gradually and carefully, remembering with sympathy those whose very anxiety for the good of our cause makes them careful of every step taken"

Obituary

Death of Mr. D. M. Garrison

The death of Mr. D.M. Garrison which occurred at his home on Jan. 5th. 1923 at the hour of two (2) o'clock removes one of Bow Island's most respected citizens and another link connecting the past and present has been severed.

The late Mr. Garrison was born in Pike County, Ill. in 1858 his mother died when he was two (2) years old, he went to Missouri in 1867 with his father.

He was married there to Miss Emma Mills in 1880 and to this union four (4) children were born he emigrated to Towns County, North Dakota, in 1901 with his family and farmed there until the fall 1909 when he and his family moved to Alberta and settled on the homestead in Sec. 17-T. 9-R. 10 where he farmed up to the time of his death, like many of the pioneers of this province Mr. Garrison, endured many hardships but with indomitable courage he struggled on to make a home for his self and family.

Although a self educated man, and one who always toiled hard yet he was a great reader of history and nothing but the best appealed to him. He was one of the leading auctioneers in this country and always took a deep interest in the stock and he always encouraged every enterprise which he considered would benefit his brother farmers. Mr. Garrison was a kind and loving husband and father, a faithful christian and a steadfast friend "Doc" as he was best known, was a good fellow in the highest sense of word and leaves a host of friends, who will mourn his passing with sincere regret, he enjoyed comparatively good health until about six (six) weeks ago when he suffered a slight spell of heart failure from which he never recovered.

His funeral took place Sunday at his home at 10 o'clock services were conducted by the Rev. Hockin who preached a most elegant sermon.

The funeral was largely attended and the remains were taken to the Bow Island Cemetery where the Odd Fellows took charge, and all that was mortal of a devoted husband, a good father, a true friend, a kind neighbor and exemplary christian was laid in its last resting place to await a glorious resurrection.

He leaves to mourn his loss beside his wife, two sons, Arthur H. of Blainmore and Loyd at home and one daughter Mrs. James Curran, also two grand-children Emma and Henrietta Lahey and a brother Robert of Blackwell, Oklahoma.

The flowers were beautiful covering the casket completely which showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our kind friends and neighbours also Bow Island Lodge I.O.O.F. for their kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our loving husband and father also for the beautiful flower offerings sent.

HONOURING A CANADIAN EXPLORER

MOONWATER INDIAN CAMP
at Lake Windermere. Celebration in Honour of David Thompson.

In the year 1807, David Thompson, Canada's greatest geographer, landed at the shores of Lake Windermere, British Columbia, and in the fall of 1822, one hundred and fifty years later, people from all parts of Canada assembled near the spot where he landed, to do him honour, and to open in his memory a large log building on the shore, which takes the form of a museum to be utilized for the purpose of preserving historical relics.

The fort and museum were erected by the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Hudson Bay Company in co-operation with one another.

The dedication ceremonies included a banquet, which represented the sense of David Thompson's first visit to Lake Windermere. Indians from the Shuswap and Kootenay reserves were there in large numbers. Their toques, pitched on the hillside surrounding the fort, were a splendid setting for the picture taken for and museum. At night the Indians lit their camp fires, and sang and played the favourite music of their tribes. The squares were decorated for the event in their finest costumes. Leaders, all with brightly colored sashes and shirts, brought children, drums or sashes, as the Indians call

CANADIAN BOOKS FOR CANADIANS

IN a circular entitled "Recent Canadian Books" just issued by the Department of Education of the Ontario Government, the names of 169 books written by Canadian Authors are cited as having proved popular in the circulating division of the Public Libraries of Toronto. From this publication it is evident that the writers of this country are not confining themselves to one field of literary activity, for the books are classified under the following subjects:—

Topics of General Interest.....	12	Platform Sketches.....	2
History and Biography.....	10	Nature Books.....	5
Travel and Description.....	10	Social and Religious.....	6
The Old Country Through Canadian Eyes.....	4	Educational and Psychological.....	6
The War.....	2	Fiction.....	62
Books Which Illuminate Our History.....	9	Poetry.....	21
		Drama.....	3
		Juveniles.....	15

No greater evidence than this could be produced in proof of the greatly increased output of and interest in Canadian books, for a few years ago the number of Canadian Authors whose names were known to the general public could be counted on the fingers of two hands.

Much of the credit for this increased interest is undoubtedly due to the activity of the Canadian Authors' Association, an organization which came into existence just eighteen months ago, but which already numbers nearly 1,000 members with branches from Halifax to Victoria, B.C. A notable achievement of the Canadian Authors last year was the plan of Canadian Book Week, which concentrated the attention of the bookreading public for six days last November by means of public addresses, newspaper and magazine articles and exhibits at libraries and book stores. The result was that the names of Canadian Authors became familiar to their fellow citizens, and the demand for their books rapidly increased. In quite a number of cases these authors were already known in the United States. One recent book entitled "Contemporary American Literature" lists five authors who are really Canadian.

The success of the first Canadian Book Week has resulted in a decision to repeat the experiment, and a large number of addresses on Canadian Literature are featured in the current programmes of Canadian Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis and other organizations. The movement is thoroughly national, as the French-Canadian Section of the Canadian Authors' Association has its "Semaine du Livre" with a similar programme of speakers, lectures and library exhibits. Last year, particularly fine exhibits of Canadian, including manuscripts of the first French Explorers, attracted many thousands of visitors to the St. Sulpice Library and the Municipal Library in Montreal.

Tamper With Mails, 93 Convicted and Jailed Last Year

OTTAWA—Tampering with his majesty's Canadian mail is becoming one of the various ways of becoming guests of a government hostel. In the year ended 95 persons were convicted as the result of the activities of postoffice inspectors and are serving terms of from three to fifteen years. One misguided individual drew twenty years but he completed his case with bursary.

One of the interesting cases happened recently in Montreal, where two men were convicted for selling parcel mail to second hand stores. Another case was that of a rural mail carrier who took $1800 from a mail bag and hid it in a food box of a livery stable. It was discovered by a dog which was found playing with the bundle of currency in the stable yard.

Mr. S.T. Eford of Medicine Hat is spending a week on the farm.

The U.F.A. put on an entertainment and dance on Friday Jan. 12th. The Majestic theatre was full to its capacity and everyone enjoyed the songs and recitations. Wm. McDaniel gave a speech on the conditions of the world in general and how it affected the farmer in particular. After which the floor was cleared when dancing was indulged in to the strains of the Bow Island Orchestra, as it had been announced as an old fashioned dance. All modern dances with the foxy names were prohibited. The Waltz, Polka, Minuet and Quadrille were the order of the day, at midnight a sumptuous supper was served to approximately 200 people, when the dancing was resumed and continued till the "see small hours".

On Sunday last owing to the fact that the Rev. Johnson was confined to his chair by an attack of Sciatica the Sunday evening service was held in the Parsonage, a better congregation than usual was present and a thoroughly enjoyable informal evening was spent.

Mr. Van Orman of Taber was a business visitor in town and stayed over for the farmers' doings on Friday.

New Cave Discovered is about 435 ft. long from 12 to 16 ft. wide and 100 ft. high

GLACIER, B.C. - By far the largest cave in the series of subterranean caverns in Glacier National Park known as The Nakimu Caves has just been uncovered by workmen engaged in development work. Unusual interest is being shown in this discovery as it opens up possibilities for exploration the extent of which can only be surmised.

The Nakimu Caves, the most wonderful series of underground chambers in Canada, was discovered in 1904 by a miner while prospecting in the Cougar valley. The story of the early explorations of these underground caves reads like a page from Jules Verne. Over a mile of high domed halls and connecting passages whose wall of crystalline limestone send back the rays of the lights in a myriad of colours, are open to visitors, forming one of the most thrilling experiences imaginable.

Half way down the valley Cougar Creek, which has come from the glaciers, is suddenly snatched down into the bowels of the mountain and roars along through the caves at the very foot of the visitors. Twice during the course of a mile it appears and flows for a little in the light of day to finally disappear by an underground channel. The rumbling of the waters through the caves is probably responsible for the Indian name, "Nakimu" which means "grumbling or spirit noises".

The new chamber which adjoins Cave No. 4 is a large cathedral-like cavern equalling

Get Cannon If Flag Returns

TORONTO - Considerable discussion has arisen here in connection with the request made by Mayor Curley of Boston for the return of the supposed "Bunker Hill" cannon which is at the citadel in Quebec. The question as to whether Canada shall give up the war relics rests with Hon. G.P. Graham, minister of defense for the Dominion.

One military officer suggested that the request should not be met except on condition that the British flags held in Detroit be given in exchange.
